Destiny is settled on this side. This side of the grave it is settled. while you have your right mind I would settle it.
Settle the supreme thing first--
  - B. "Light is gone and opportunity has passed"
There is an end to God's visits--while we may be still alive, most opportunities pass our door only once then gone forever.
Mill cannot grind with water that has passed.

I brought X to him "said I have had no response at all for you. I have crossed the line & I have it."*
No matter how faint the desire to be right
