

Confederate Naval Officers - Prisoners of war - Confined in Ft Warren - Boston Harbor

FORT WARREN.

MR. MIDSHIPMAN MORGAN,
THE COMMANDER'S AID
[FROM AN OLD DAGUERRETYPE]

Dr Hayes
Wrote his Explorer

Deck of the Kearsarge - Captain Winslow Lt Thornton and with the other officers that fought the ship in the engagement with the Shenandoah

Photo upon their return to the U.S. just after the battle

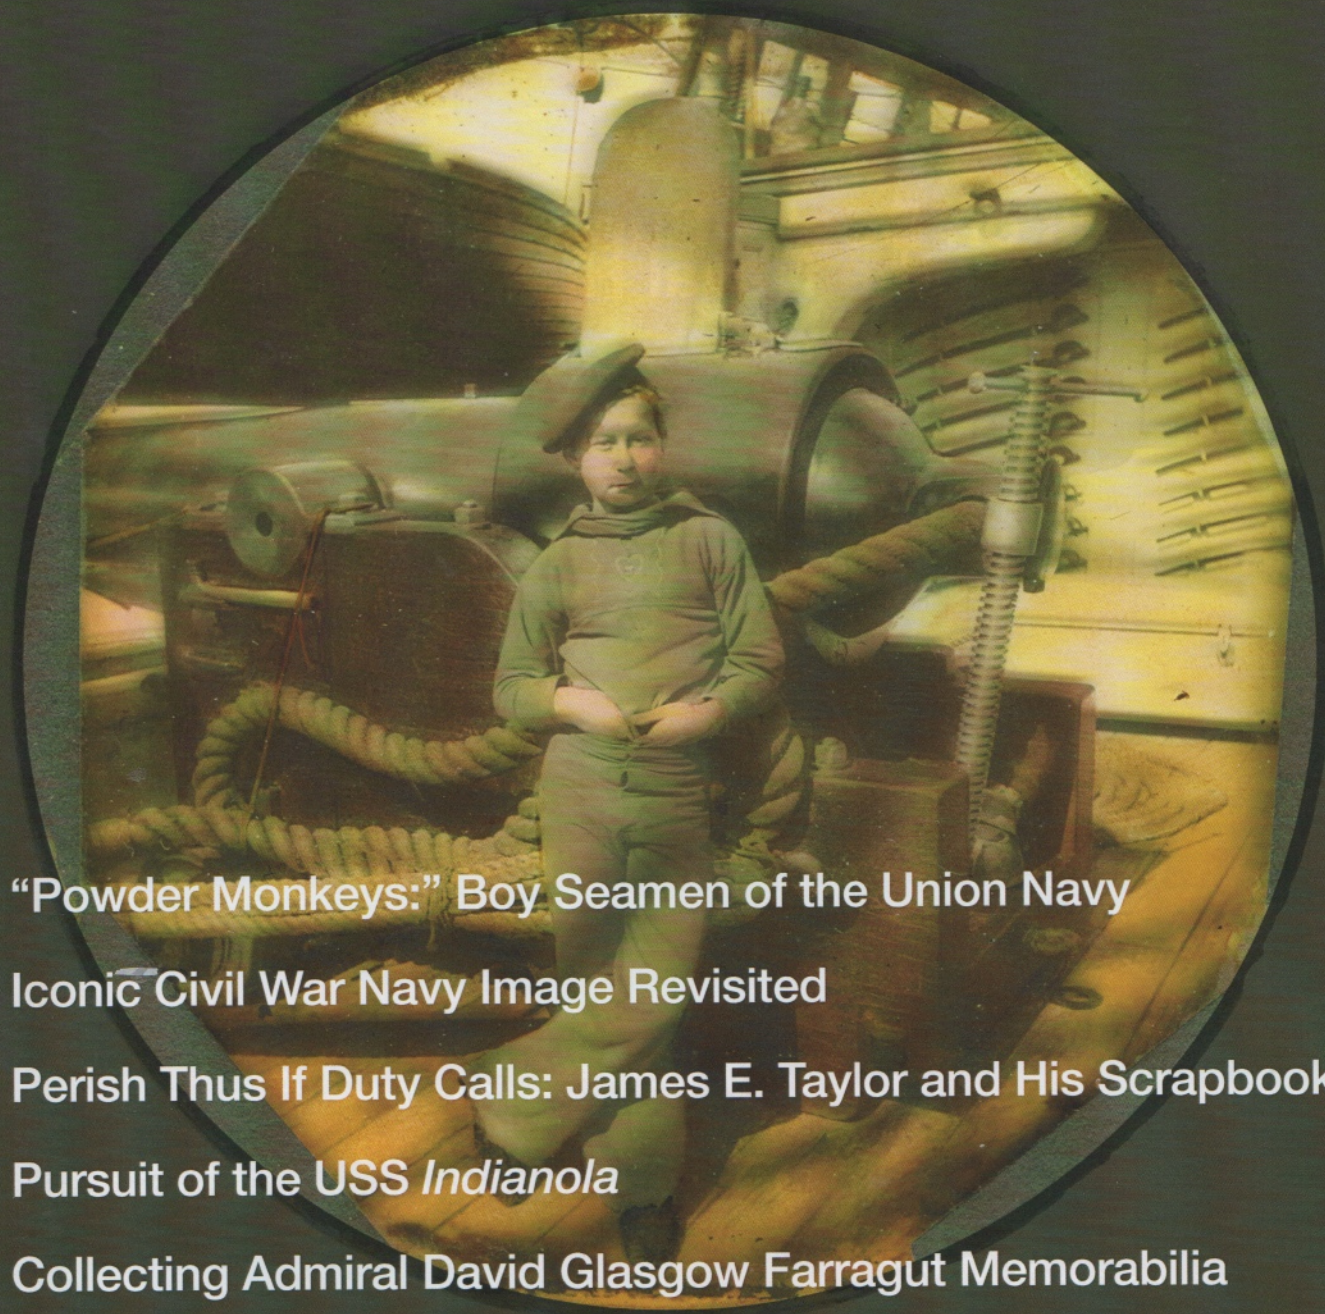

An album page with two group photographs (Confederate Naval Officers prisoners of war confined in Fort Warren, Boston Harbor [top] and deck of the Kearsarge, Captain Winslow, Lt. Thornton and others with the other officers that fought the ship in the engagement with the Shenandoah, photo upon their return to the U.S., just after the battle [bottom center]), one illustrated portrait (Mr. Midshipman Morgan, The Commander's Aide (from an old daguerreotype) [center right]) and one illustration of Fort Warren [center left]. James E. Taylor Collection: Scrapbook Three, p 59. Huntington Library, San Marino, California.

Last Moments of the Cumberland

CIVILWARNAVY

Summer 2018 | Volume 6 Issue 1

The Magazine

“Powder Monkeys:” Boy Seamen of the Union Navy

Iconic Civil War Navy Image Revisited

Perish Thus If Duty Calls: James E. Taylor and His Scrapbooks

Pursuit of the USS Indianola

Collecting Admiral David Glasgow Farragut Memorabilia

USS Cumberland: Sink Before Surrender