

Virginian-Pilot Photo by Clark

Two tall Texans are on hand to lead the South Norfolk Baptist Church's Youth Crusade for Christ next week. R. Perry Ellis, evangelist singer, talks with Miss Betty Miles, a co-chairman of the crusade. His fellow Texan, Jim Slatton, conference leader, is at right. Horace Twine, co-chairman, is at the extreme left.

Two Tall Champion Speakers from Texas To Conduct South Norfolk Baptist Crusade

R. Perry Ellis and Jim Slatton, a youth revival team from Baylor University, Waco Tex., are on hand to begin the Youth Crusade for Christ revival of the South Norfolk Baptist Church Sunday at 11 a. m. and continue through the following Sunday.

Ellis, who stands six feet nine inches in his stocking feet and has won national honors in oratory, is the son of the Rev. Neal Ellis, pastor of the South Street Baptist Church. Prayer meetings will be held prior youth evangelist conference leader. On the local level, Horace Twine and Miss Betty Miles are co-chairmen of the crusade.

Slatton, no short boy himself, hails from Dalals Tex., and is a

Services will be held nightly during the week at 8 o'clock. Prayer meetings will be held prior to the services at 7:30 o'clock for four groups — juniors, intermediates, young people and adults. Seminars will follow the revival services each night.

Alternating from night to night, Ellis will lead the fellowship of "singspiration," games and stunts. Slatton will lead seminars on such subjects as "God's Will for My Life", "Maximum Christianity" and "Love, Courtship and Marriage."

Seminars will be held nightly. Morning watch during the crusade will be held Monday through Friday at the church at 6:30 a. m. The church nursery will be open for children for all the services.

This week visitation is being held for the revival twice daily at 10 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. Visitation next week, during the revival, will be held daily at the same hours.

Cottage prayer meetings are being held in homes this week and will be held next week at 8 p. m.

Virginian-Pilot Photo by Clark

Two tall Texans are on hand to lead the South Norfolk Baptist Church's Youth Crusade for Christ next week. R. Perry Ellis, evangelist singer, talks with Miss Betty Miles, a co-chairman of the crusade. His fellow Texan, Jim Slatton, conference leader, is at right. Horace Twine, co-chairman, is at the extreme left.

Two Tall Champion Speakers from Texas To Conduct South Norfolk Baptist Crusade

R. Perry Ellis and Jim Slatton, a youth revival team from Baylor University, Waco, Tex., are on hand to begin the Youth Crusade for Christ revival of the South Norfolk Baptist Church Sunday at 11 a. m. and continue through the following Sunday.

Ellis, who stands six feet nine inches in his stocking feet and has won national honors in oratory, is the son of the Rev. Neal Ellis, pastor of the South Street Baptist Church. Prayer meetings will be held prior to the services at 7:30 o'clock for four groups — juniors, intermediates, young people and adults. Seminars will follow the revival services each night.

Alternating from night to night, Ellis will read the fellowship of "singspiration," games and stunts. Slatton will lead seminars on such subjects as "God's Will for My Life", "Maximum Christianity" and "Love, Courtship and Marriage."

Seminars will be held nightly during the week at 8 o'clock. Morning watch during the crusade will be held Monday through Friday at the church at 8:30 a. m. The church nursery will be open for children for all the services.

This week visitation is being held for the revival twice daily at 10 a. m. and 6:30 p. m. Visitation next week, during the revival, will be held daily at the same hours. Cottage prayer meetings are being held in homes this week and will be held next week at 8 p. m.